- Many of us have struggled with the mess and clutter of wires and cables in our home.
- This clutter of wires and cables doesn't just look bad, but also constitutes a safety hazard for children and others. It collects dust and can cause trip and fall accidents.

Here are some tips to help alleviate the problem:

- Examine the cable length: Make sure your cables are at the minimum length necessary. Buy shorter cables or shorten the ones you are using.
- Conceal the cable: Hide the cables under floor cord covers. They are available in a variety of colors and styles for your home.

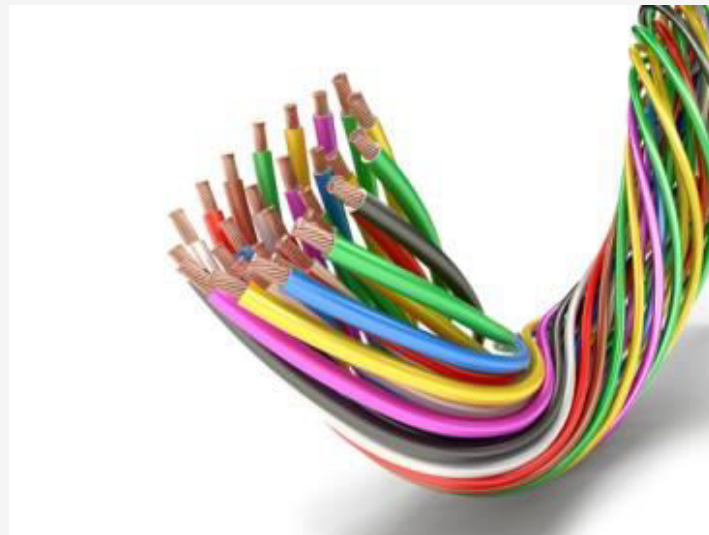

Route the cable wisely: If a cable must go around an entire room, plan a route that creates as little disruption as possible.

- There are adhesive cord clips, raceways and cord protectors that will assist you in using the walls, furniture and floors to hide the cable.

Consider using a charging station: Use a charging station so that your cell phone, tablet, MP3 player and any other device can be charged together in one neatly organized area.

- Olympic Wire & Cable has been providing the right cables for the right projects for more than 35 years.
- We can cut your wires or cables to any length.
